

More Than the Stars

from the album Waves

Jay Ducharme

Gently

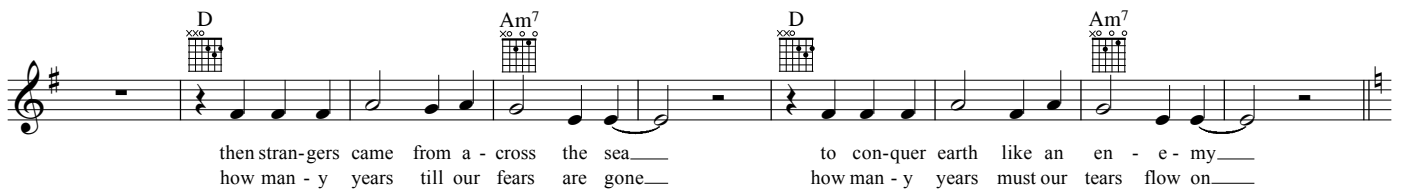

once trees stood tall and grass was green once wa-ter flowed cold and clean the land gave life we flour-ished here it gave us bi-son birds and deer how man-y roamed the earth more than the stars then stran-gers came from a-cross the sea to con-quer earth like an en-e-my how man-y years till our fears are gone how man-y years must our tears flow on for-e-ver changed the peace we knew we fear for them for what they do our har-vest burns our streams run dry I ask the earth I ask the sky how man-y more will come more than the stars how man-y years must pass more than the stars so man-y lives built u-pon this land lost in the grip of a stran-ger's hand

repeat and fade
